BUILDING AREA : 268 M.SQ

YEAR : 2015

INTERIOR CONCEPT
RE-BRANDING

Thousands of years ago on the plains of Central Asia, the art of making carpets was developed, as part of an enduring tradition that has never been surpassed by technology or machines. Little did they know back then, that what women have been using as a protection for their children from the cold winters will be the bedrock of one of the most expensive, luxurious and precious industries all over the world. Nowadays, and after another thousands of years of perfecting carpet weaving; handmade rugs are still the gold standard, for what they possess of qualities and characteristics that simply cannot be imitated, for the efforts and hard work of mothers who dream of better life for their families, and for each knot tied around a story of struggling and fighting poverty to live with dignity. For those reasons and more, handmade rugs are always one of a kind; each piece has its own personality, each piece tells a different story, each piece is a unique tone played on a harp of a proud woman, each piece is a new life.

SWINGING CARPETS

The idea is to give the public the chance to interact with the place through this simple mechanism. All the carpets are tied to a bar which can be moved by hand in a circle trail, which makes the hanged carpets swings in different heights ups and downs giving the public a beautiful experience and attach them to the space and its culture. This unit is to be implemented in the design in the next stages.
