Joinery & Upholstery

Our in-house joinery design capabilities ensure seamless coordination and the highest level of finish as all touch points are internally controlled throughout the entire manufacturing process.

As joinery forms a very significant part of the fit-out process, it becomes crucial to ensure accuracy and quality of shop drawings.

Our custom joinery drafting encompasses building products that are intended for decorative purposes and engineered-to-order. After studying the architectural drawings, the necessary shop drawings are prepared by our draughtsman to be executed by our manufacturing teams.

Our precision woodworking divisions have machining, polishing and assembly capabilities which allows us to create complex and bespoke joinery items. The machining process integrates CAD drawings with CNC routers and other computerized woodworking machines, enabling Top Rock Interiors to provide tailored solutions for all our customer's needs.

As part of the assembly process, and with the assistance of our experienced polishers and painters, the finished product is prepared to any specification.

In all our facilities, the entire production process is overseen by our production managers and supervisors, from planning to onsite installation of the completed product.

Our expert upholsters works in a variety of materials whether it is the luxurious appearance, wide choice or durability of natural leather or synthetic material technologies that meet all your requirements and performance expectations or woven, non-woven and knitted interior fabrics in a wide variety of applications.

We offer a full-service portfolio of tailor-made solutions that add style and performance to your project furnishings, fabric panelling, sofas and bench seating. The finest materials are used with high density foam on plexi or solid wood frames.
